To Our Valued Patients:

You are scheduled today for your preventive care visit. These visits are used to assess your general health status, review your personal and family health history and make recommendations for keeping you healthy. They often include tests and labwork that your provider will use to evaluate your health and make recommendations for prevention of disease.

Sometimes during preventive visits, other medical problems are encountered and may need to be addressed. Frequently, patients wish to address these additional problems while in the office for their preventive visits so that they do not have to come in for a separate visit. Examples include acute issues such as sore throats, sinus infections, and injuries, new or ongoing symptoms that have not been assessed or diagnosed, and uncontrolled chronic issues such as high blood pressure and diabetes. These additional problems are usually not covered by insurance companies under the preventive visit and are billed separately. Some insurance companies apply copays or deductibles to these additional problems, and you may be responsible for paying these additional charges.

Please talk to your provider at the beginning of your visit if you have issues or problems you wish to discuss, or if you have ongoing chronic health issues to be addressed in addition to your visit for your preventive care. Your provider can tell you if these issues might result in additional charges for you.
